PIN PRICK PROVES CURE

Man With Broken Neck Recovers After Being Jabbed.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—John A. Salve, wealthy importer of Oradell, N. J., left the Syack hospital practically well, although last June he broke his neck diving into shallow water near Nyack, and his death was thought but a question of 48 hours. The surgeons say in the course of a few weeks he will regain the use of his legs.

Salve fractured the fifth and sixth cervical vertebrae so severely that the surgeons dared not operate. His head and neck were propped with sand bags and for weeks he moved neither to right nor left.

He retained full possession of his mental powers, but was paralyzed from the neck down. One day a pin pricked his flesh and he gave a sharp exclamation. From that time he showed remarkable improvement.

Would Control Defectives

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 11.—The creation of state or normal commissions to see that subnormal children are not born into the world, was forecasted today by Dr. S. Nicholas Jacobs. He advocated a eugenic clearing house to pass on any physician's judgment as to whether a baby should live in the event of monstrosities being born in spite of precautions. The commissions would guard against a repetition of the Halseider case in Chicago, he said.

He opposed permitting one doctor to decide whether a baby should live or be permitted to die, declaring such a procedure surely would mean that instead of criminal means now used to prevent undesired children, they would be born and an unscrupulous doctor would decide that they should die.

At their last meeting 1913, Gibbons knocked out Ahearn in the fourth round. In the past two years, however, Ahearn has steadily improved, and there are now many who will bet that he will turn the tables at this meeting.

The HALLMARK Store DOLLAR GIFTS

A striking illustration of the great purchasing power of Hallmark Stores is given in this remarkable showing of Dollar Gifts.

Every article is sterling silver of serviceable weight and satisfactory workmanship. Such merchandise could not possibly be offered at the price of one dollar but for the combined purchasing power of the nearly four hundred Hallmark Stores in the United States.

The advantage of this comparison is noticeable throughout our store in the high quality of merchandise we show and the very reasonable prices that prevail. We offer value wherever it is a dollar gift, a diamond, a watch, or other merchandise of greater value.
